Department Overview

The Humanities Division encompasses the disciplines of Social Studies, Religion, and Wellness (Physical Education). Working to create awareness of a variety of cultural practices throughout history, integration of these areas helps us deepen our understanding and appreciation of our Catholic faith in a more universal setting. Appreciation and understanding of the diverse history of the people of the world aids in the creation of more compassionate and responsible citizens. Additionally, focusing on the physical, mental and spiritual wellness of our students furthers that goal.
